

WINTERGREEN COUCH GRASS

Australian
Lawn Concepts
LIVING • GROWING • GREENING

WINTERGREEN COUCH GRASS

BEST PERFORMING COUCH

Wintergreen couch is one of the more well-known of the couch variety, for good reason. It has a bright mid green appearance with a soft fine leaf texture, perfect for full sun areas. The root structure of the Wintergreen Couch makes this more drought tolerant than other couch varieties, and also provides the lawn a higher wear tolerance once established. This variety of couch is found to have a good resistance to disease, making this a suitable grass for larger commercial areas.

BEST QUALITIES

Wintergreen couch can handle up to 20-30% shade each day and thrives in full sunlight. Generally, through the winter months Wintergreen does not go dormant, which means it has an early start to growth after winter and tends to retain its colour during this period of time. For best results, a fertiliser application is recommended at the beginning of each new season, though it does require less fertiliser than other varieties which helps the cost factor.

RECOMMENDED CARE

- Recommended mowing height is 15-30mm
- Mow every 1-2 weeks during Summer
- Mow every 2-3 weeks during Winter
- Fertiliser applications recommended is 4-6 per year
- Low water usage, though still maintain regular watering